Curriculum for Excellence Workshops

Social Studies: |History| Great Fire of London

Content

This exciting workshop involves a variety of drama techniques to lead the children through the events of the Great Fire of London. The children will improvise scenes of everyday life in Pudding Lane, the fire, the frantic escape, camping at Moorfields and making decisions about how to rebuild the city.

Learning Level

Suitable for early and first stages with information and delivery adapted to the needs of your class.

This workshop is also suitable for teachers, educators and youth workers in order to provide additional skills in facilitating learning.

Space

A large clear space, most suitable would be either a gym or assembly hall.

Time

Early/First – 60 minutes

Second – 90 minutes

Additional Information

As with all of our workshops it is extremely important the class teacher stays with the group at all times. This ensures that the learning experiences and outcomes are shared and that our workshops contribute effectively to the development of each and every young person.

Love Drama prides itself on creating a bespoke service that meets the needs of its clients. Love Drama is flexible and responsive to individual requests and the dissemination of all workshops can be tailored to complement the outcomes and experiences you have included in your forward planning. You may choose to work with us in a one-off session, over four weeks or for the duration of a term, in order to create a learning experience that effectively supports all participants. If you have any queries regarding participation within these workshops, please do not hesitate to contact us.
